

THE ALBUS

MVO- STATEMENT The Albus Hotel

We are aware of the influence of our business activities on the environment and society and want to act in such a way that the planet is preserved for future generations. We do this by continuously integrating sustainability into our business practices, services, and products.

We achieve this by making conscious choices and seeking balance in our ethical practices. This is a process. We are constantly looking for feasible steps to shape this social responsibility in our company. To achieve this, so far we have implemented the following measures:

We actively keep abreast of CSR developments within our profession and make an active contribution to the transfer of our knowledge about this to employees and others who want to learn.

- We have installed the most durable Mitsubishi patented air-cooled heat pump system in the market. The Albus Hotel is therefore the first European hotel equipped with the most sustainable technologies based on this air-cooled heat pump technology.
- We inform our guests, employees and suppliers how we conduct corporate social responsibility.
- We make transparent agreements with the parties involved about the quality of our product and how we monitor quality.
- In addition to the financial impact, we also determine the social and environmental impact of our product and limit any negative impact thereof as much as possible.
- We contribute voluntarily to social goals through donations and sponsoring and through volunteering.
- We try to inform our guests and colleagues on facilitating in reducing their environmental impact.
- We are actively striving to reduce waste flows and our consumption of gas, water, electricity and fossil fuels.
- We are continuously working on improving our own procurement process and we focus on particular goods and services that are sustainable and preferably with a high social quality rating.
